DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Edgar (USPN 5469275).

2. In regard to claim 1, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, in which method a color value (x, y) and a brightness (Y) are assigned to each shade of gray, see col.1 lines 49-56, characterized in that the assignment between shades of gray and brightness is monotonic, see col.6 lines 60-65, and that the assigned color values are selected from the range (U) of a predetermined reference color (XR, YR), see col.5 lines 27-46, and wherein the assignment of color values enables the human eye to differentiate between successive shades of gray, (the visual read out of each of the points on the gray scale being displayed over the portion of the image, showing the gray scale values including shades of gray being visible to the user). See col.9 lines 45-50.

3. In regard to claim 2, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that the reference color (XR, YR) is white. See col.1 lines 60-67.

4. In regard to claim 3, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that different color values are assigned to each time two successive shades of gray. See col.4 lines 15-20.

Art Unit: 2676

5. In regard to claim 4, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that the assignment between shades of gray and color values is bijective. See col.8 lines 10-20.

6. In regard to claim 5, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that a recurrent series of  $m \leq n$  different color values  $((x_1, y_1), \dots, (x_m, y_m))$  is assigned to the  $n$  shades of gray in an ascending order. See col.8 lines 10-31.

7. In regard to claim 6, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that the reproduction of the gray scale image in colors takes place on a color monitor (6), the assignment between shades of gray on the one side and color values  $(x, y)$  and brightness  $(Y)$  on the other side being adapted to the dynamic range of the monitor. See col.8 lines 62-67.

8. In regard to claim 7, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that the rule of assignment between the shades of gray and the control of the primary colors of the color monitor (6) is stored in a look-up table (4, 5). See col.4 lines 5-9.

9. In regard to claim 8, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that the look-up table (4, 5) also takes into account the effect of the ambient brightness. See col.6 lines 30-35.

10. In regard to claim 9, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, a device for reproducing a gray scale image in colors, which device includes a transformation unit (3) (display processor) which assigns a color value  $(x, y)$  and a brightness  $(Y)$  of the display to each shade of gray (2), characterized in that the transformation unit is arranged in such a manner that it is capable of carrying out the method as claim in claim 8. See col.3 lines 50-60.

Art Unit: 2676

11. In regard to claim 10, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors, characterized in that it includes a color monitor (6) for reproducing the gray scale image in colors, and that the transformation unit assigns the driving of the primary colors (R, G, B) of the color monitor to the shades of gray. See col.4 lines 5-9.

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments filed on 10/27/2003, have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the prior art does not teach "the assignment of color values enables the human eye to differentiate between successive shades of gray". However, examiner respectfully disagrees with the argument because on col.9 lines 45-50, Edgar teaches a method of reproducing a gray scale image in colors having the visual read out of each of the points on the gray scale being displayed over the portion of the image, which shows the gray scale values including shades of gray being visible to the user. For these reasons, the rejections are maintained.

13. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 2676
